Subject: Data Sheet Specification Change for Intersil Products ICL7660A* and ICL7660S***

This advisory is to inform you that Intersil has updated the data sheet specification for the listed ICL7660A* and ICL7660S* products. The updates require the use of an external Schottky diode from the VOUT to CAP- pins in some applications in order to guarantee latch-up free operation. Details regarding the use of the Schottky diode are contained in item 6 of the Do's and Don'ts section located on page 8 of the data sheet. The updated data sheet is available on the Intersil web site at <http://www.intersil.com/content/dam/Intersil/documents/fn31/fn3179.pdf>.
